

The George C. Askew Award for Exemplary CPM Projects

Since 1999, the American Academy of Certified Public Managers has sponsored George C. Askew awards for the purpose of recognizing exemplary projects authored by Certified Public Manager program participants.

Every year, an Askew Award is given to one person from each state CPM program. State CPM Societies assist in the selection process. The projects selected for the Askew Award can be individual or group efforts and contributors do not have to be members of their state societies or the Academy to qualify.

George C. Askew was the first CPM participant to graduate from the first CPM program. His support, promotion, and devotion to the CPM program in development efforts for future participants led his peers to honor his efforts with this award.
